Bone Hole - the latest

by Ed Waters

Back in June a project was started to finish off some long overdue conservation work in Bone Hole, Cheddar Gorge. As part of the access agreement for the site, the MCG had agreed to protect the archaeologically important bone slope which lies just below the entrance shaft. For one reason or another no one had managed to get around to this. In addition the original wooden shoring in the entrance shaft had deteriorated severely and needed replacement.

Therefore in May a small group carried a series of heavy loads up the steep hill to the impressive entrance. The first task was to set about shoring up the entrance. This was achieved using a lot of scaffold. Unfortunately it was not possible to remove the original wood without the shaft collapsing, therefore it is now heavily

In order to reduce the risk of collapse further, it was decided to ensure that visiting cavers would not have to clamber up and down the shoring as had been the case. Thus the old chain "hand line" was removed. On investigation this was found to have worn alarmingly, down to only a couple of millimeters on several links. This wear was not immediately noticeable in the cave, and would surely have lead to an accident in the very near future. the chain was then replaced with a VERY heavy fixed ladder. The ladder is actually slightly larger than the shaft and had to be hammered down, and probably does not require the bits of rope securing it to the scaffold!

Ed pictured on the new floor on the Bone Slope

Once the shaft was stabilised the serious work could begin. Over a series of visits a sloping floor of galvanised steel mesh was installed over the top of the Bone Slope. The mesh is supported on a scaffolding framework, about 6 inches (150mm) above the slope. As initially installed this produced something akin to the cresta run which allowed a lethally fast descent and all but prevented ascent! Therefore angle iron "rungs" were added to make the floorway safe and pleasant to use.

From the guest Editor

Whilst we are waiting for our new Newsletter Editor to get into the saddle as it were I have volunteered to produce an update of the 'goings on' to use a phrase coined by Yvonne. If you haven't been on Mendip for a while you really should come and visit. The group is buzzing with activity and the cottage has seen some good improvements. This newsletter is mostly about keeping you up to date and hopefully the next issue will have a few more articles but in the mean time here's whats been happening...

Linda

In this issue

- 1-2 Bone Hole latest
- 2 Hidden Earth
- 3 Spain 2010
- 5 Beer & Skittles
- 6-8 Half yearly meeting
- 9 Training weekend

The walkway is now almost complete, and is safe to use. There does remain some more conservation work though, namely the removal of old timber and digging kit left by previous generations of cavers, and the calcite flows on the walls could do with a good clean - volunteers will be welcomed! Most of the work was carried out by myself and Buddy, with lots of help from Mark Ward, Russ Porter, Paul Ketcher, Doug Harris, Joan Goddard and Hayley (apologies to anyone I've missed). A very special thanks is required to Biff, especially for the provision of all the materials, as well as underground engineering expertise.

As a postscript, the opportunity was taken during the work to have a good look around the rest of the cave. The long fixed ladder down to the old dig could do with replacement, though that is not on the shortlist of jobs to do at present. I think all of us were impressed with the draft in the cave, and given its location it clearly has a lot of potential. After much deliberation a dig has been started in the part of the cave above the gate (i.e. away from the archaeologically sensitive areas). The aim is to work down the top of the choke, and hopefully enter the Cheddar river cave which must lie somewhere beneath. To date we have excavated down about 4m through boulders against a solid wall. Digging is almost unbelievably easy, and the draft is very encouraging. Even more exciting is that the new extensions in Charterhouse Cave have headed directly towards Bone Hole. It is so promising that the Charterhouse explorers have asked to come and have a look... Digging has become a regular event, and anyone interested in joining in please let me know.

The MCG won the much coveted 1st prize in the stand competition. Much effort went into its preparation and thanks must go to Martin and Yvonne for achieving what may be a first for the MCG.

The stand was a reconstruction of the MCG cottage lounge, complete with call out board and photo board. 'As soon as the stand was set up it was obvious it would be a success. Members and visitors soon made themselves comfortable and we began serving tea (brewed up in my Landrover in the car park) and biscuits'. Yvonne's famous Boulder Choc Rock Cake went down very well with visitors. 'I think the judges were impressed by the atmosphere we created. It was genuinely like being in the MCG lounge'. The rest of Martins report plus more photos are available on the web site:

Cottage Update

Key fob (actual size)

The new access system is poised ready for 'go live' - hopefully over the Novembers' members' weekend. If you haven't had your new key card or key fob then it will be posted to you shortly. The system is easy to use and gives us a lot more control over issuing cards by being programmed in house. They are also cheaper and the batteries never wear out! The system has been specified and installed using our own in house talent - which also saved the club a lot of money. Thanks to Ben, Miguel, Martin and everyone else involved.

The new wooden double glazed windows have been purchased and are at the cottage awaiting installation by, yes, yet more of our skilled members. The installation is planned to start over the Novembers member's weekend so be prepared for a draughty nights sleep!

MCG trip to Andalucia, Spain 10th – 26th September 2010 caving and canyoning!

We are very lucky to have Miguel Tome who is organising a group overseas trip to Spain next year. Miguel has much knowledge of the area and has contacts with all the caving organisations and park authorities. He has caved in this area extensively and has himself been involved in exploring Sima GESM some 1100m deep.

The opportunity to cave with Miguel on his home turf should not be missed!

The caves will be mostly SRT apart from one, so those who have not yet got up to speed you better get started! (See training weekend below). Miguel has started collecting names and will need to apply for permits so it is important that he gets the names of people committed to the trip. Lots of information is available on the web site, an extract follows:

'We are planning 10 caving trips and 2 canyoning trips during a period of about 15 days. We will be caving in three different National Parks, namely Grazalema, Sierra de las Nieves and Torcal de Antequera

Our accommodation will be in the village of Villaluenga del Rosario, in the province of Cadiz but very close to Malaga province too; we will be caving in both provinces. Accommodation will be in a bunkhouse run by the Andalusian Caving Federation, there are plenty of bunks, meeting rooms, a rear patio and porch and kitchen with staff cooking for us. Accommodation is 8 Euros per night and 8 Euros per meal

SRT will be needed for most of the caves. Only one trip will be suitable for non-SRT cavers - Cueva del Gato. This is a 5 kilometres through trip, with all fixed ropes, loads of swimming (wet suit required), SRT harness, helmet and Stop or Figure of 8. This cave will be treated like a canyoning trip (but obviously in the dark) because of the dimensions of passages, with lakes up to 1100 metres long (600 metres swimmable for us), 6 to 8 abseils (depending on the route) with a biggest drop of 30 metres, huge chambers like Plaza de Toros (the bull ring) where you actually could build a bull ring in the chamber, and a good variety of formations like the Great Stalagmite 4 metres wide and 5 metres high

All the caves we are visiting require permits, and as the permits will be printed with the names of all members in the party, we need 100% commitment of those taking part. We also need conformation for booking the accommodation

All caves except Gato will be SRT, and one of the trips will be to Sima GESM; as most of you know, this is a 1100m deep cave. An MCG team may be able to participate in the exploration which is taking place and still finding new passages and pitches. We will be working with the team that has been exploring Sima GESM since 2002 and who reached the new depth of 1100m. This trip is ONLY for hard cavers, as there is a 3 metre squeeze a short distance into the cave, called literally "the fg squeeze" on the survey

Our caving trips will be taking place in the National Parks of Andalucia, and the park authority issues permits not the clubs or the Caving Federation. The authorities are concerned with the big risk of fire and this is why we need to put names on permits. At least one local caving club has been fined for taking caving gear off the cars without a caving permit. We are already in contact with National Parks, Andalusian Caving Federation and Local Clubs. Sima GESM and Cueva del Gato (5Km through trip) will be pre-rigged and there will be tackle available to rig other caves if needed.'

Cottage Work Weekend

The September members weekend was the 2nd work weekend of the year and resulted in the completion of some important cottage work. The jobs included: installation of a more secure hut fees box, continuation of the installation of the access system, installation of a secure glass cabinet for the log books, removal of scrub from the verge, chopping and stacking the remaining beech wood, levelling off some of the car park to allow more parking space, a big bonfire, painting the toilets, painting the kitchen windows, cleaning the kitchen (again) clearing out sheds, and many more. Such good progress was made that there was time to do some caving the next day! In the evening we had a splendid take away curry organised by JP and Mary. Thanks to them and to everyone else who helped with cottage work.

Call out board

Please remember to fill in your call out cards. It is important that all trips are posted on the board, particularly now that there are multiple trips going on during busy weekends. Please also remember to fill in the log books. They are the only lasting evidence of the caving activities of MCG members. Our history. You never know how important the information will be in 50 years time!

A Newbie's Perspective

Well hello! For those who haven't met me, I'm a new member called Kev Speight. I'm an exiled Lancastrian living in Wiltshire, who recently unearthed a passion for inventing new ways to hurt himself under the Mendips!

To date, I've been privileged enough to be dragged along on trips down GB, Waterwheel Swallet, St Cuthbert's Swallet, Longwood Swallet and of course the obligatory Swildon's forays. I'm forever in the debt of the guys who've organised and led these trips (Particularly Mr Porter, who endured my company for my first few 'proper' trips!), as they've all been challenging in their own way and the guys have always been happy to answer my endless stream of questions.

At the October member's weekend, the missus and I were made to feel instantly welcome by everyone present, despite my somewhat 'distinctive' bluetooth nickname. (Probably not printable in such an esteemed publication as this!) Okay, we were both mentally scarred by some of the cottage games we witnessed, (Even the people at our local S&M club's eyes were watering when we told them!) but we survived to tell the tale and in truth, had a fantastic time in great company. We're both really looking forward to the next opportunity to damage our bodies with hacksaws, tables and alcohol!

So thanks again to everyone for indulging my newfound interest. I look forward to meeting and of course caving with you all soon.

Winner winner, chicken dinner!

Kevin Speight

Yorkshire 16/17/18 April '10

We will be heading up the M6 again to the Yorkshire Dales for a weekend of caving 16/17/18 April 2010, going underground on all three days. I am going to book the YSS hut as before and I also need to get permits organised for the caves that we wish to visit. If you have any preference on what sort of caving you would like or specific caves please let me know. My thoughts at the moment include; Lost Johns, Lancaster/Easegill, Gaping Gill.

I am also looking to organise SRT training for beginners or those who would like a complete refresher, this would start with over ground practice and move underground for days 2 and 3. If you can help with the training for this please let me know, I am considering the option of getting professional tuition organised for the first day for which there would be a cost of around £40 per person. If you would like to put your name down for the weekend please let me know, places will be limited by the number of bunks I can book.

Jeremy.

Minutes of the NOT EGM
Held At 10am on 04/10/09
At Nordrach Cottage

Chairmans Opening Address

The Chairman opened the meeting by welcoming all those present. There was one apology for absence received and that was from Geoff Rodwell. The Chairman informed the meeting that due to a technicality, the meeting was not an EGM and was therefore to be known as the NOT EGM. Votes would be taken through the meeting on items being discussed so long as they did not contravene the rules of the club. Finally the Chairman put a time limit on the meeting of two hours.

Committee Projects

The Chairman detailed the wide range of projects that had been completed since the AGM and the attendees signalled their appreciation of said projects. These included the Wood Stove in the lounge, the new subs box, the Access System, and the windows which are to start being replaced at the November meeting.

The Chairman then opened the subject to the meeting to gain an idea of any further projects the members would like to be considered. The members requested a Drying Room and Shower cubicles. Much discussion ensued as to the possibilities of both and the need for both. Also discussed was the possibility of rearranging the ground floor to make these items possible, the building of an outside block building where the shed is to house a drying room, and the rearrangement of the Tackle store.

The committee will get a proposal and a costing together for the shower cubicles by the AGM. The committee will also formulate a future policy concerning the Showers and the Drying Room. Biff Frith also offered to do a costing for internal changes to accommodate these items and one for the external buildings.

Full Membership Form discussion

The proposed changes to the form were discussed with Brian Snell offering his reasons for trying to change the wording originally. All agreed at the meeting that the form needed to change. Some good suggestions were also raised by the members as to the content. The committee agreed to amend the form in light of these discussions. The amended form will be reissued in time for the next AGM. The form will also include a recommended reading list.

Christmas/ Next Years Calendar

After several suggestions from the members a vote was taken to hold the Christmas Function "in-house" but that it would be a buffet. The committee will suggest a menu and invite all members to acknowledge their attendance shortly. Confirmation of a wish to attend will still be required in order to gauge quantities of food required.

Other suggestions for social activities included;

Paintball, Archaeology walk, Fundraising, SRT competition, photoshoot for calendar, Mendip Cavers Fair, Treasure Hunt, Yard of Ale competition, curry night, Spanish evening, Mexican evening.

Any member wishing to help with or organise any of these events are welcomed by the committee. Next years social calendar will be formally issued by the Social Secretary shortly.

Finances

The Treasurer stated that the income exceeded the outgoings so far this year by £1,248. However, £650 was still to be cashed by Ben Cooper for the Access system items and the windows still had to be paid for. Whilst the accounts are looking reasonably healthy, the club had not had the scout group bookings this year and group bookings generally were down. The members weekends were the main source of income and it was wonderful that so many members were attending each month. The meeting agreed that the atmosphere each month was good and getting better each time.

The meeting also discussed the possibility of subs being received electronically. The problem of recognising who had paid was raised. The Treasurer agreed to investigate the issue with the bank and subsequent to that, electronic transfers of subs would be offered to those who wished to pay that way.

Library

The Librarian stated there seemed to be items collecting in the Library that should not be there. Therefore the Library will be cleared of such items. Any member who has items in the Library should remove them immediately.

It has been noted that committee minutes should be accessible to all members. Therefore, a paper copy of this years committee minutes will be held in the Library.

The committee then stated their concern that committee information on the computer may be corrupted inadvertently by other members using the computer. Therefore the committee items on the computer will be held under a separate user area with an additional password known only to the committee.

After some discussion by the meeting concerning the general appearance of the lounge and Library areas, it was agreed that the Fire surround needs to be removed. It was stated that Barry Parker had expressed a wish to have the surround. It was agreed that he should have until the December members weekend to remove it. After that it will be destroyed.

Prize from Hidden Earth

The club was very pleased to receive Best Stand at Hidden Earth in September. The prize is a stay at SWCC for 10 members. Thanks and congratulations were given to Martin, Yvonne and all the other helpers who achieved that prize. The meeting voted to hold a trip to South Wales next year and if more than 10 members attend then the additional cost would be spread equally by all who go. The Caving Secretary will issue details of when the trip will be held in the New Year.

Training Weekend

This years training weekend will be held at the November members weekend. Items to be covered are SRT, Ladder and Rigging. The Caving Secretary will issue more details shortly.

Child Protection Officer

The Child Protection Policy was discussed at some length. There seemed to be some confusion with some members as to why the club needed one. The meeting was advised that the BCA had requested the club raise one and appoint a member to be the Child Protection Officer. It was pointed out that this is not a committee post and that the Officer was merely an advisor. It was additionally recognised that the issue of Child Protection was the responsibility of every member within the club.

The Policy document still has some areas to be resolved and Jenny Plumb very kindly offered to take on the role as she has some experience in this area. She will review the document and advise the committee accordingly.

Any Other Business

The Access system is almost complete. Many members now have new keys and fobs. Those who have not been at the last couple of members weekends will not have had their cards or keys. These will now be sent by post. Any member who receives their card can change it for a fob (at a cost of £5). The card will need to be returned with the money and a fob will be issued. The reason for doing it this way is that the computer system needs to be updated for each change as each card and fob are individually assigned to specific members. Access is dependant on each members level of membership. The Access system will become active at the November members weekend. Linda Milne issued her thanks (and the meeting concurred) to Russ, Miguel, Ben, Brian and others for their hard work on getting this system up and running.

Jenny Plumb informed the meeting that the new Hut fees slot was a big improvement. Thanks went to Brian and Russ for their work on this.

Mike Lovell informed the meeting that he will not be able to continue printing the newsletters for much longer. This is an area that has been under discussion in the past. The meeting reviewed the situation with the paper copies of newsletters. It was agreed that whilst there were valid cases for the issue of newsletters on paper, some could be issued electronically.

Ed Waters volunteered to consider becoming the Editor at the next AGM. He has just become the editor for the BCA so once he has become familiar with that role he may consider it for the MCG. In the meantime, Linda Milne offered to issue an update similar to the one issued a short while ago.

The meeting heartily thanked Mike Lovell for all his help over a long period of time.

The issue of the Post code on the website was raised. It was stated that it was hard to find the post code and it was requested to have it put on the front page. The committee agreed to consult the webmaster on this issue.

The Chairman thanked all the attendees for coming and for their very valuable input during the course of the meeting. He then closed the meeting 20 minutes early at 11.40am.

LIBRARY ADDITIONS

Bone Hole photos- Bernard Reeves has donated a series of photos taken during MCG's 1967-1974 excavations. (Currently there is an exhibition of bones from Bone Hole and Hunter's Lodge Inn Sink in Wells Museum)

Mallorca Caves by Des Marshall, 1999.

Speleology (Bulletin of British Caving) Issue 14 August 2009 includes a description and rigging topo for Scialet du Combeau : the first echo-anchor SRT route in the Vercors. Articles on Ethiopia, Asturias etc.

W jaskiniach by Bohuslav Kortman & Christian Parma, 1990. I couldn't resist this lavishly illustrated hardback coffee-table book when I saw it at Hidden Earth. It is written in Polish but contains photos of caves in most European countries (not Britain!) as well a few from South East Asia.. Appended are translations of the captions into English, French, German and Greek.

Eli Simpson and the BSA by Davis Judson, BCRA Cave Studies Series No, 18, 2009. (64 pp, 94 photos). This publication came about as a result of the BCRA Simpson Archive, a mass of documents collected by Eli Simpson (1884-1962) and rediscovered from BCRA's archives. It will appeal to cavers who are interested in the early development of caving and in the numerous old photographs, surveys and assorted documents.

Purbeck Underground. A VHS Video produced by Trilith (a charity which collects and makes available archive films of Dorset and Somerset). It shows a short 1960s film of two old stoneworkers exploring a disused underground working; new footage brings us up to date with the history of the Purbeck stone industry (donated).

Redcliffe Caves Guide published by Axbridge Caving Group in 1996. Six page pamphlet about the "caves" which are in the centre of Bristol. Visits can be arranged via Alan Gray of Axbridge Caving Group (donated).

A new cabinet for the log books

Please note:

Having completed an audit of the library issues book, I will be shortly contacting those individual members who have apparently had books etc out for over 6 months, to both verify that they still have them and respectfully ask for their return. 6 months, is more than sufficient time to both read and digest.

TRAINING WEEKEND

Sat 7th & Sun 8th November

SRT Rigging with Stephan, CIC

SRT Rescue with Johh Crowsley, CIC

Ladder & Lifeline with CIC (tbc)

Open to all MCG members

Free of charge !!!

In addition to SRT Rescue and SRT Rigging we are going to do some training on ladder & lifeline on Saturday 7th November. This will cover ladder climbing, types of rope, tackle, harness vs belts, knots, rigging, lifelining options and possible issues. The morning session will be overground, the afternoon will be entrance/underground.

The day is open to anyone who would like to learn or have a refresher, full member or probationary. As with the other training there is no charge.

For more information or to put your name down for one of the courses contact Jeremy, MCG caving secretary, on 07525 629508

Our trainers are all qualified Cave instructors and give their time free of charge to support the MCG.
